PRACTICE FOCUS

Mr. Delcollo practices in the areas of employment law, commercial law, construction litigation, government regulations, professional licensing, and provides clients advice regarding the right to keep and bear arms. He has represented clients before various administrative boards and Delaware courts. Although his practice focuses on courtroom litigation, Mr. Delcollo regularly consults with clients respecting construction contract formation, contract drafting, contractual interpretation, non-compete contracts, severance agreements, and employment contracts/executive compensation.

Mr. Delcollo has experience representing employers in the areas of workplace discrimination, workers' compensation, employee handbooks and policies, civil litigation consulting, administrative law, wage and hour issues, non-compete contracts, prevailing wage, government regulatory actions, and breach of contract litigation. He has handled cases involving tortious interference with contractual relationships, fraud and misrepresentation, breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing, non-representation allegations/breach of collective bargaining agreements, administrative hearings, breach of implied warranties, debt collection, breach of contract, commercial landlord/tenant disputes, commercial contract interpretation, course and scope of employment, employment status, non-compete agreement drafting, severance agreement drafting, retaliatory firing, and hostile work environment allegations.

His practice regarding the right to keep and bear arms/the Second Amendment focuses on assisting individuals with denials of concealed carry permits and assisting them with the restoration of rights/relief from disabilities process. Mr. Delcollo also assists individuals with the review of employment contracts, grievances against governmental entities/employers, review of executive compensation agreements, and review of severance agreements.

POINTS OF DISTINCTION

Mr. Delcollo currently serves as a State Senator in the Delaware General Assembly, representing Senate District 7. He was elected in November 2016.

In 2016, 2017, and 2018, Mr. Delcollo was recognized by his peers as a Delaware Top Lawyer in the Civil Rights and Constitutional Law Practice.

In 2015, Mr. Delcollo graduated as a fellow of the Leadership Delaware, Inc. That same year, he was selected for the Delaware Business Times 40 under 40. He was also recognized as January's Republican of the Month and Republican of the Year by the Republican Party of Delaware.

In 2011, Mr. Delcollo graduated magna cum laude from Seton Hall University School of Law and became a member of the Order of the Coif, a Law School Honors Society.
