

PRACTICE FOCUS

Danielle Friedman is an attorney in the firm’s Estates & Trusts group. She provides comprehensive and sophisticated estate and tax planning services for a range of clients. She regularly assists clients with wealth preservation and asset protection planning in addition to charitable giving and more typical estate planning needs. Ms. Friedman also guides fiduciaries through estate and trust administrations, including probate matters, preparing state and federal inheritance and estate tax returns, handling creditors’ claims and beneficiary distributions.

Ms. Friedman also works closely with the firm’s Business Law and Transactions group, where she handles corporate governance matters, business succession planning and the preparation of a variety of commercial agreements.
