PRACTICE FOCUS

Mr. Dorwin's practice in civil and administrative litigation is focused primarily on real estate law, including residential and commercial landlord-tenant law, Fair Housing Act compliance, and regulatory compliance. Additionally, Mr. Dorwin has experience in complex construction litigation, discrimination defense, subsidized housing lease-ups and compliance, and alternative dispute resolution. Mr. Dorwin also regularly assists owners of commercial and residential properties in business licensing and other matters of District of Columbia code compliance.

"No client wishes to become involved in litigation, whether landlord-tenant or otherwise. However, when it becomes necessary, my clients trust our team to guide them through the litigation process and to make decisions with an eye toward their bottom line. I take seriously my role as a trusted business adviser for my clients."

— Brian Dorwin
