

PRACTICE FOCUS

Kyle Frost is a North Carolina board-certified specialist in family law, with emphasis on equitable distribution, child custody, child support, alimony, post-separation support, step-parent adoptions, and post-judgment practice including contempt proceedings. His practice encompasses Mecklenburg, Gaston, Union, Iredell, Cabarrus and the surrounding North Carolina counties.

He attended the University at Albany on a Presidential Scholarship, graduating magna cum laude with a double major in Political Science and Sociology. During this time, Mr. Frost also became certified to teach English as a Foreign Language (TEFL).

Following college, Mr. Frost spent over a year teaching English in South Korea. He worked in a private school in Seoul developing curriculum, English programs and educating both children and adults that were interested in learning a new language.

Mr. Frost attended Wake Forest University School of Law in Winston Salem, North Carolina. While there he worked as a summer research assistant to Dean Suzanne Reynolds in the field of family law and domestic violence. He also served as a law clerk at a family law firm in Durham, North Carolina. Before graduating in 2013, he also received a 40-hour mediation training certification.
