

Safeguard Your Wealth And Investments

Your financial plan and estate plan are of no use or benefit if potential claimants are able to seize the assets you have worked so hard to preserve and acquire. In a world filled with so many legal claims and claimants, and with insurance companies denying more claims than ever before, you need to take additional asset protection planning steps to secure and preserve your wealth and investments from potential future claims.

Individuals and couples who should consider asset protection include:

- People with High Net Worth
- People Involved in High Risk Occupations (i.e., Doctors, Attorneys, Accountants)
- Fiduciaries (i.e., Trustees, Guardians, and Personal Representatives of Estates)
- Corporate CEOs, CFOs, Officers, and Directors
- Real Estate Developers
- People Who Have Sold Their Businesses
- People Uneasy With a Prenuptial Agreement, and Who Want to Shield Assets From Potential Claims Brought by a Spouse

Offit Kurman Attorneys At Law has established itself as one of the region's leading asset planning protection law firms.
